What is a PAS?

- A PAS is a Publicly Available Specification
- Fast-track standardization document from The British Standards Institution (BSI)
- Defining good practice standards for a product, service or process
- Developed by a steering group of stakeholders, selected from relevant fields
- A PAS can be used for a wide variety of issues and sectors
 - Create a rapid route to national and international standards e.g. BS, EN, ISO & IEC
 - Build trust in the industry by setting the bar for good practice
 - Take a leadership role in your sector by helping to resolve its strategic issues

Why was PAS 320 created?

- A positive food safety culture is important because food sector incidents and recalls are most likely the result of human error
- Culture is defined by ISO as “integrated shared values, beliefs, history, ethics, attitudes, and observed behaviors”
- The objective for PAS 320 was how to translate “culture” into clear guidance that could guide food organizations on what a good food safety culture looks like
- Providing a common vocabulary, a common framework and a common set of requirements as guidance that is aligned with international standards
- Food and Beverage Operators (FBOs) can freely download to implement and sustain
